NBA Losses

During the past year the National Basketball Association suffered two great losses.

One was that of the Chicago Bulls' Michael Jordan. On October 6, 1993, to the shock of his fans, the NBA's leading scorer and MVP announced his retirement from basketball. Later Jordan signed a baseball contract with the Chicago White Sox.

During the 1993 basketball season, the Boston Celtics unexpectedly lost their team captain, Reggie Lewis, to heart failure. He was only 27 years old.

“I felt accomplished, excited, and nervous before the district final game.”

"I was so nervous I couldn't talk."

—Rachel Hettinger, Homecoming Princess

"Learning to Fly" was the theme for this year's homecoming week. Homecoming days were; "Come As You Are Day", "Twin Day", "Spirit Day", "Favorite Sports Team Day" and "Dress up Day". Senior candidates Jaime Clark and Eric Hardwick were crowned king and queen and freshman candidates Rachel Hettinger and Dale Cameron attended them as prince and princess. Posters were once again put on display with the seniors winning first, seventh grade placing second and eighth grade winning third. The dance was in the cafeteria immediately following the boys basketball game.

"My mom has a wild aim, she even got it in my ear!"

-Mandy Erwin, Freshman, on her mothers participation in the pudding drop contest.

The pep rally was held Monday, November 22, in the high school gym. The cheerleaders conducted several events to kick-off the basketball season.

The cheerleaders began the evening with a floor cheer to get the fans and players excited. Their first event was for the boys basketball team. Participants were Jeremy Hettinger, Jason Schempp, and Eric Hardwick. The object of this event was to see who could empty a baby bottle filled with root beer first. Eric was declared the winner. Next was a pie eating contest, participants in this event were Jaime Clark, Sara Thompson, Brandi Childress and Jennifer Coy. Jaime was the victor.

The participants in the next event were the girls and boys basketball team members and their parents. The object of this event was to see which parent could empty a bowl of chocolate pudding in his or her child's mouth first.

Coach Ball and Coach Scholfield captained two teams with 4 members on each team. The first person on each team had to put on several articles of clothing, do the limbo, put their chin on a bat and spin three times, make a free throw and run back to the second person on the relay team until all four participants were finished. The winner of the relay was Coach Ball's team.

The last event was the yell-off spirit cheer, each class was monitored to determine which was the loudest. The seniors were the loudest and were given the Brashear Spirit Stick.

"Even though we didn't win the trip to Washington, we had a lot of fun"

-Tony Orwig, Freshman

Mrs. Brown's Civics class participated in the "We the People...The Citizen and Constitution" simulated congressional hearing, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education by act of Congress. The hearing was held February 7, at the Capital Plaza Hotel in Jefferson City.

The class spent six weeks in studying the text provided by the U.S. Bicentennial Commission and had to pass with 70% accuracy on a standardized test. The class was divided into six groups, each group was responsible for "testifying" on there assigned unit of text. Five schools competed. We were the only 9th grade team, the rest of the competitors were juniors and seniors. Judges included law students from the University of Missouri, speech majors from NMSU, and legal professionals from throughout the state.

Jason Williams, Brooke Selby, and Kevin Withrow placed first in the competition for their unit "Comparison of the Bill of Rights and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights."

The second annual Home Economics Fashion Show was held Friday, March 25 at 7:30 in the high school gym under the direction of Mrs. Janie Kurth. This year's theme was "Impressions". Participants were Misty Baker, Jodi Moots, Stacy Dalton, Darcy Schelker, Krista Aldridge, Jaime Clark, Christyl Sweet, Jennifer Coy, Kelly Aldridge, Maggie Missen, Wendy Williams, Leah Hettinger, Jeanette Orwig and Cortney Moncrief. The models modeled dresses of their own and others from Tamara's Silk Bouquet and Bridal Boutique. A dance routine to "Do You Love Me" followed the show which included seven high school boys and models.

The elementary has been a busy place this year! Reading week was held in October. Many activities took place during the week, including Career Day when several adults came in to speak about their career. Photographer Mona Tague came to the elementary and about how it was to have a career in photography. Florist Margie DeRosear came in to explain to the children what a career as a florist was like. Rob Parker from Burrito's Screen Printing in Columbia demonstrated with the children how to silk screen print. Charlene Shahan demonstrated on Amanda Moots what it was like to be a cosmetologist. Taxidermist Doug Rainey came in and talked to the children about a career in taxidermy. Hopefully this helped the kids decide what they want to be when they grow up.

The PTS Christmas program was held Thursday, December 16 at 7:00. This year's theme was "Christmas Around the World."

We began in England. Did you know that many American Christmas customs came from England? The most famous tradition is caroling. Another Christmas tradition we received from England is the giving of gifts. Instead of asking for gifts and clothes as we do, English children ask for money for themselves and adults ask for money for charities. So you see despite some minor differences, we share many of the same traditions.

Going south the journey took us to Spain. In Spain, people dance and sing in the streets after midnight mass on Christmas Eve. Most Spanish homes and churches display a miniature nativity scene called a Nacimiento.

Traveling northeast from Spain our next stop was Holland. From Holland we received the tradition of Santa Clause, or St. Nicholas. Have you ever wondered if Santa Clause has any relatives? If he does how come we don't know about them? Does he have a mother? What do you think? Does St. Nicholas have relatives? You decide.

Just across the border from Holland is Germany. Many of their customs are the same as ours. One of the most notable customs is the decorating of the Christmas tree. This tradition was started by the Germans and original trees were decorated with tiny toys, stars and candles.

And that's where our journey ended. Santa made a surprise appearance afterwards.

Top Ten Reasons to Purchase A Yearbook

Grades 11-12

1. To see how bad your ex-boyfriend/girlfriend really looked.
2. So you can regret not saving your old clothes for your kids to wear because they are wearing the same things -only they cost more.
3. At your twenty year class reunion you can recall the names of all your classmates.
4. To see if you lived out the prophecy given to you by the junior class.
5. Read the autograph pages and try to remember those times you were not supposed to forget.
6. To compare how much better you look compared to your best friend- fifty years from now.
7. So you can look back and remember "the good old days".
8. To play Where's Waldo in the group pictures.
9. Down the road you can look back to see who the most popular were and compare it to what they're like now.
10. You can look back at the sports pages and remember you were once in shape.

NHS members sponsored International Day, which involved a great array of speakers from all around the world, to come speak to grades 7-12, about their home life and the differences between our two lifestyles. Afterwards two of the speakers were invited to a luncheon as a thanks for their time.

National Honor Society also took a trip to Kansas City where they attended a dinner theater and viewed the play "Solitaire". Their last project for the 1994 school year was a film they put together with pictures of the graduating class (throughout all their school years) to be shown during the senior reception held after graduation.

"A Night of the Classics" was the theme for this year's senior play. Seniors chose four skits. The first skit was Fall of the House of Usher by Edgar Allen Poe. Narrator, Darcy Schelker, travels to the home of a childhood friend, Roderick Usher. Upon arrival he finds Roderick's sister, Lady Madeline, played by Maggie Missen, is dying. Roderick ends up burying Lady Madeline alive. But, she digs herself out, and they die together as the house crumbles.

Next Charles Dickens', Great Expectations, Jaime Clark, playing Miss Havisham, a bitter old woman, who despises men of all ages. Miss Havisham's adopted daughter Estella, portrayed by Jennifer Coy, helps Miss Havisham get Pip, Eric Hardwick, a common laboring boy, to fall in love with Estella, only to be insulted and have his heart broken.

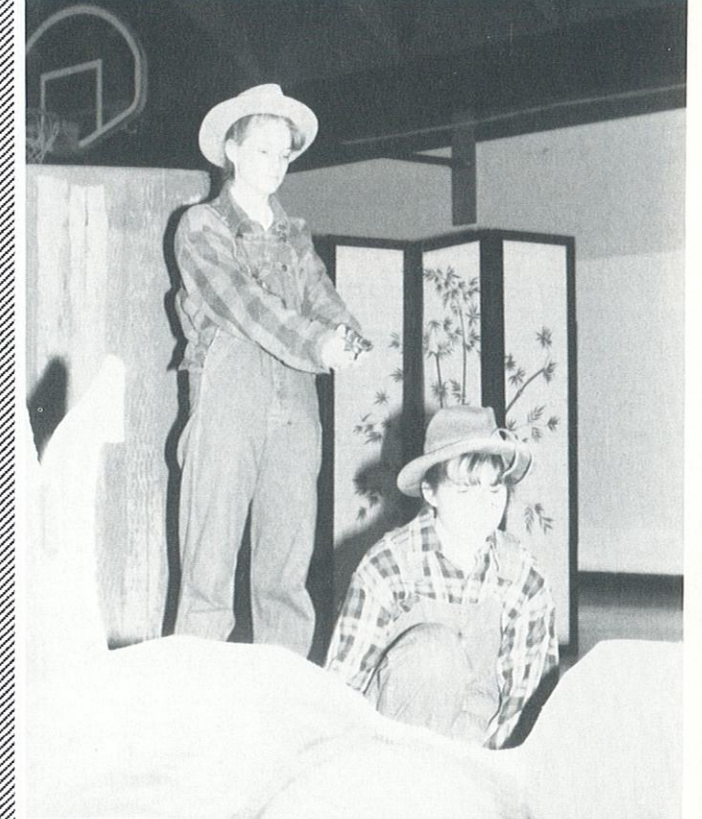

Of Mice and Men, written by John Steinbeck, talks of hard choices and a very strong friendship between two grown men. Misty Baker playing George, and Kelly Aldridge playing the role of Lennie, work together and are close friends. But a tragedy occurs which causes George to take the life of Lennie to save him from an angry mob.

The skits end with "Grease", which includes a short dance routine and slumber party.
