Senior Class Prophecy

Bud Lancaster and Darlene Ferguson now, because of the housing shortage, live in the Empire State Building. They are now making plans for building five more rooms on to their home as the Empire State Building is just too small for them. If there is anything they can't stand, it's being crowded.

Benny Hays is now really an eye catching object. He's a trapeze performer in the Crumby Bros. Circus. He's really quite good, but sometimes we wonder if he's walking a tight rope, or walking a rope, tight. Benny got his idea of trapeze performing one day when he visited the zoo in St. Louis. There he saw a monkey doing some stunts and now Benny is trying to be like him--in performing, of course.

Burnell Helton now owns a large ranch in Arkansas. His specialty is in raising goats. If you want to see a beautiful sight you should be around early of a morning when Burnell, puffing on his old corncob pipe, goes up the hill to feed his KIDS.

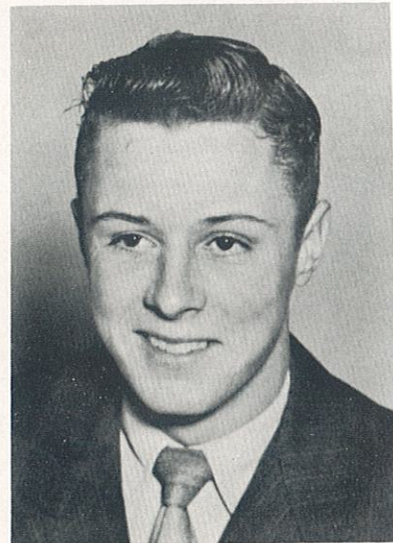

Jo Anne Hammontree has now taken over the "Beulah Show" on radio and television, only now they call it the H-U-L-L-A Show. Her faithful boy friend has never given up asking Jo Anne to marry him but now he has even more competition. Among her most ardent lovers are Humphrey Gable, and Tyrone Johnson.

Shirley Miller and her hubby, Wilbur Baldwin now own a gorgeous night club in Tin Pan Alley. They have made heaps of money and are now building them a new home in a place where everyone can admire it, in the middle of Skyway Boulevard in New York City. So soon she will be tinkling tin pans in her own little kitchen.

Billy Fast now is part owner in a mouse trap factory. Bill has decided there's entirely too many MICE and not enough MEN in this country and he intends to do something about it. He and his wife, Mary Sue, now have six children and are happy as can be in their little home in Gibbs.

Lavern Shores now owns a cafeteria in Bullion and is making a great career for herself. She has now changed her name to Bragg and is driving a Cadillac, a '35 model.

Junior Perry is now teaching bookkeeping at the business college in Brashear. Professor Perry and his wife Faye are also opening a theater in Adair for a friend of his from Hollywood who is talented in dancing and acting.

Class Will

We, the B. H. S. Seniors, of Brashear, Missouri, leaving this institution of knowledge, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament disposing of our most valuable possessions.

- FIRST: Darlene Ferguson, wills fifteen pounds to Sherril Elmore.
- SECOND: Lavern Shores gives Howard Hughs her famous expression "I ain't talkin".
- THIRD: Shirley Miller wills her love for the noon hours to Phyllis Shouse.
- FOURTH: Jo Anne Hammontree bestows her love for taking speed tests to Donna Helm.
- FIFTH: Bud Lancaster wills his intelligence to Mr. Hunt.
- SIXTH: Burnell Helton wishes to dispose of his stubbornness to Jerry Byers.
- SEVENTH: Benny Hays gives his ability to come to school every day to Lee Lyons.
- EIGHTH: I, Billy Fast, will my position on the "Grand Ole Opery" to Frankie Williams.
- NINTH: Junior Perry gives his love for bookkeeping to Travis Brock.
